FINANCIAL.

The financial situation remains unchanged except that there is a stronger feeling of confidence in the near future, and an expectation of greatly improved trade. The quietude in Europe, the steady demand there for our products, and the cessation of anxiety about the Presidential matter, all combine to give a bet-ter tone to business. Money is abundant at 8@10 per cent., and it is pitiable to think that, just when a gleam of sunshine is lighting up prospects, our (the Tennessee) legislature, ignorant of the operation of the great ture, ignorant of the operation of the great unwritten law of supply and demand, should be employed in obstructing our return toward prosperity, by enacting laws that will make money scarcer and dearer. Exchange underwent some alteration, and we quote New York exchange and New England demand at ½ discount, New England sight ½ discount, New Orleans ¼ discount, all selling at par. The New York Herald, of Friday, says: "The rates of exchange on New York at the undermentioned cities to-day were: Savannah—buying, par; selling. ½ premium. nah—buying, par; selling, 1 premium. Charleston scarce, nominally 1 discount@ par. Cincinnati firm; buying, par; selling. 1-10 premium. New Orleans—commercial, 3-16; bank, par@1/6 discount. St. Louis, 75 premium." Chicago, 25 premium. Gold was down in consequence of the President having signed the Presidential electoral bill, quoting in New York at 105%, which is lower than it has ever been before since June, 1862; here brokers offered 105. The New York Bulletin, of Friday, reported: "Foreign exchange was strong, with no change in nominal or actual rates, the latter having been 48314 @48334, and 485@48514 for prime bankers' sterling. An important reason for the present firmness of the market for sterling bills is that the supply of cotton bills is small; the fact being that our markets for cotton are too high in comparison with the Liverpool market to justify shipments." In local stocks and scrips things have been as quiet as has become usual; some sales of Memphis gas stock have been made at 92½. There is some inquiry for Memphis and Charleston stock at 5. Fire and police scrip is wanted for tax-paying purposes. A few changes in rates arrees in purposes. A few changes in rates appear in

This further heavy decline in stock was not accompanied by any lucid explanation, although heavy sales were made for Philadelphia account, the same as on Saturday. The general impression here is that the stock etofore held for bull account is being gradually unloaded in consequence of the recent decline in coal and the condition of the company's finances. To-day there was an entire bsence of any unfavorable rumor about the Philadelphia institutions carrying obligations of coal companies, but in their place there was a rumor affoat that the New Jersey Central would go to protest to-day on some of its paper. This rumor could not be verified, al-though it undoubtedly found sufficient credence to depress its stock, for the reason that the company has a large amount of paper affoat. The tumble in New Jersey Central had a marked influence upon general share speculation early in the day, and turned the market from firmness to depression. There was a decline in the active list of 1/4 to 11/4 per cent., which was partially recovered in late dealings, when New Jersey Central rallied 2 per cent., and Delaware, Lackawanna and Western 134, from the lowest point. Our review of the cotton market at the end of the last commercial week quoted middling cotton in New York at 13½c, it advanced during the week to 13 5-16c; New Orleans quoted 12½c, and advanced to 12½c; Liver-pool quoted 6 13-16d, and advanced to 7d, then fell back to 6 15-16d; Memphis quoted 1214c, and advanced to 1214c. This statement shows an advance on the whole week. nent shows an arvance on tat the close the tendency was downward As we have had frequent reason to explain, the market of any mercantile commodity is sometimes governed by inside and some-times by outside influences—more generally by a combination of both. At this moment cotton is almost entirely influenced by causes acting within itself. The Presidential "mudthey decrease it advances. There is just now a tendency rather to take the higher than the again dull and gloomy. Everywhere cotton was lower; spots, futures and deliveries were all alike. Large receipts caused the heaviness—55,000 bales at all ports against 40,000 last week, and 43,000 last year at the same sime. The demand in our market was poor, not a single exporter appearing among the few buyers; cotton went down 1/6c on all grades; holders offered cotton liberally. The excess in receipts is owing to the opening up of transportation by railroad and water. The increase of receipts will endure only a brief time; its effect on the market will last longer, as it will increase suspicions of a higher crop than had been looked for. The feeling at the close of the market was weak. Yesterday. Day before.

Liverpool appears to have been a little uncertain, but as a rule has sympathized, and on arrivals bended rather toward an upward turn. The influences have not been sufficiently stimulating to create any great excitement, and the volume of the market has changed, unleasing has ceased, considerable covering took place from day to day, and fresh purchases were made. Of course the bear side of the question retains friends, many of whom advocate their belief with as much confidence as ever, but have presented no really new arguments except the possibility of a European Print are in brisk demand and strong; Pacific prints are advanced to 8c. Woolen goods are in moderate request and steady. Dress goods are rather more active. Cotton hosiery is moving freely. RIVER NEWS.

Weather and River Chronicle. This is "howling jolly" weather; it makes a 'ellow feel like digging for fish-bate, or scratch in his garden, or playing base-ball, or some other devilment like that. But there's an end to all things, and we are reminded very forcibly that the beautiful spring weather of the past few days is nearing its end by the ap-pearance of a heavy bank of black clouds in he western horizon at dark yesterday evening. Arkansas river is still in the sulks, and won't rise, while all the other rivers are in good boating stage. The Mississippi is still encroaching upon the lowlands, and opposite here seems to be nearly to the top of the banks. Reports below give the latest particor White river. The Charles Morgan will arrive to-morrow en route to the Ohio. The City of Chester added 807 bales of cotton at the elevator for Cairo.

Business was quite brisk yesterday, and everybody was in good humor. Our port list records thirteen arrivals and eight departures since last report. The towboat Seven Sons, sunk in the Ohio y the ice frolic, has been raised. The Golden Rule passed down yesterday en route from Cincinnati, with a full load for New Orleans. The City of Vicksburg is the Anchor Liner for Cairo at ten o'clock this morning. Captain Reily commands. Captain Greene says the A. J. White will go out for Friars Point this evening in place f the Belle of Texas. The Ella, Captain Bowman leaves for St. Francis river at five o'clock this evening. Less Ware is chief clerk. The Osceola, Captain Flower, leaves for St Francis river at four o'clock this evening. A laycock is in charge of the office. The Carondelet will arrive in time to re-turn to New Orleans Wednesday evening. lenn, on the wharf boat, is agent. The Mollie Moore passed up for the Ohio Sunday, stopping here an hour or two to get supplies. She refused freight here. The Maumelle is the five o'clock packet for Arkansas river this evening. Captain James Reese, jr., is in command, with Billy Butlet n the office. United States marshals at Vicksburg are still preying upon property recovered from the wreck of the Mary Belle, burned up there about one year ago.

Captaiu Ad Storm has already engaged 2000 bales of cotton for the City of Vicksburg, o be reshipped for the east at Cairo. She will go up this evening.

The John B. Maude, which passed here yesterday, added eighty tons here for way-landings below. She discharged forty-five hundred packages at the elevator. The Illinois had one hundred and twentyone cabin passengers and one hundred and thirty-five deckers on the trip up from Vicksburg, besides a good trip of freight.

The Illinois, which leaves for Vicksburg-this evening, connects with the R. E. Lee at Vicksburg for New Orleans; also with steamrs for Tallahatchie and Yazoo rivers.
The Memphis and Cincinnati packet Vint inkle, Captain James Kenniston, sails for the Ohio river at five o'clock this evening. Billy M'Intyre is chief business bulldozer. The Illinois leaves for Vicksburg on time his evening, having caught up with her reg-dar day. Captain Gunsollis is in command. Captain Reese, Billy Carr and Dan Sullivan,

The Hard Cash will arrive in port this norning and return at her usual hour this evening for all points on White river. Cap-tain Postal on the roof, and the office full of clever folks. Captain Wise says he will make forced marches, so as to bring a big Mardi Gras ex-cursion trip to Memphis. She will probably eave here on her return to the Ohio next

The bar on the A. J. White, in the Frian Point trade, was bought yesterday by the beer king, Henry Luhrman, he paying twenty-seven hundred and fifty dollars for it. His many friends will rejoice to know that happy

Cairo Bulletin, Saturday: "The Grand
Tower left yesterday intending to reach Cape
Girardean, and receive a lot of flour, but was ompelled to return owing to the lowness of the river. The Bismarck left yesterday to load at Belmont, where she intends getting about 500 tons and 1300 bales cotton. The Scudder has paid off and is now at the landing with 1000 hhds sugar and a good lot o sundry packages."
The New Orleans Picayune, of Sunday. contains the following interesting items "The Charles Morgan, leaving on Saturday for Cincinnati, had 800 tons of sugar and nolasses, 50 cabin and 40 deck passenger

The Morgan is the first boat from this port fo incinnati since the Ohio river opened. The Susie Silver did not get off on Saturday, owing to the non-completion of shipments, but wil leave on Monday, for St. Louis and the usua way landings. The Yeager will follow the way landings. The Yeager will follow the Susie Silver, and the next departure after the Yeager will be the James Howard, which will leave on Monday for Cincinnati. The Thompson Dean will leave on Monday for Cincin-An unsophisticated mule raised Cain down on the levee yesterday. His proprietor want-ed him to take passage on the Phil Allin, and the mule seemed willing enough to do so un-til he got sight of lke Leonard and Charley Meister, when all at once he stopped, pointed his ears forward, made an effort to stand on his head, finally dodging away from the stage-plank, and positively refused to go aboard of the boat alive. An hourand a half was consumed in the effort to persuade that mule to change his notion, without successful result. At last a cordon of rousters was formed round the animal, and he was carried abour the boat by force. Those who saw the incider say that the mule fainted after he found that he had to submit to such association.
